Consumers of Ink.

The undersigned begs to inform the highly respected community of this city and the country, that he has established an

INK MANUFACTORY.

No. 50, Calle 25 de Mayo.

And is prepared to sell as good Ink, as any made in any part of the globe, and warranted to retain its beautiful jet black color which it has at the moment when used, at 50 p.% less than the same can be bought at any other house.

People under the impression, that they pay their $20 more for a quart bottle of English Ink, can have the same proved, that most of the Ink sold for English, is made in this country, and imposed upon the public as such. But I am not ashamed to put my own Name on the labels, being fully convinced that my Ink is of a much superior quality, and possesses more virtues than most of the Inks.

I.—Ink is of a very rich black at the moment when used.

II.—Retains its color.

III.—Runs freely off the pen.

IV.—A preserver of the eyes to those, who have much to write at night because they need not so force their eyesight, to see what they have written.

For the reasons explained, I hope that my prejudice governed & entertained against Home Manufacture will be laid aside, and all I ask is, to try the same which will be a benefit to the buyer, and the country, in assisting Home Industry.

N. B. Orders left at the office will be punctually attended to and delivered free of any charges.

TUESDAY, APRIL 21, 1863.

FASHIONS FOR APRIL.

(From the Polly.)

This month, just preceding the change of our political season, is trying to the Constitution, and persons who frequent election booths, church roofs, &c, should be well cloaked up, as exposure is dangerous, especially in elevated positions. Striking alterations are now prevalent, and in all cases the cap should fit the intended wearer: the outgoing Ministers should, moreover, pull the cap over their eyes, and take care to have "put on their boots," before leaving office. Pantaloons will become public characters, and Cavours, Raglans, and Buckinghams abound, particularly in rural academies and among the infirmity of the bushin and toge.

Shooting-jackets, adapted to high land sports, are wented in Rioja, Mendoza and San Juan. Pi'ot cloth is not fashionable, one of our leading Spanish merchants having lately cut an ugly figure in the same. Dress-coats may be used in the evening after the model used by our Consul-general in Paris, who has got a very proper style of "dressing." Pea-suits will be apropos for vegetarians, and all who are opposed to the salado business, being members of the Cruelty to Animals Prevention Society. Straps are only worn by mounted gigdanies, and gaiters in the vicinity of the Retiro. Cravats and neckties are general, but stocks should be avoided. Drawers are in season before the packet sails, but Buenos Ayres is at present badly off for hose.

Shirt-collars must be turned down, and we caution our readers against "getting into garments of eleven yards." Cuffs are not necessary on all occasions, and the breast need not be ruffled, unless attending a political or hospital meeting. Perfumery is vulgar, nevertheless jockey-club will suit judges of horseflesh, and otto of Roses is in fashion in Mendoza. Dog-skin gloves are dangerous, as the police used strychnine in dimming the canine increase. Gambkin is better, as the natives say "la cabra tira al Monte," but monte is a very gambling occupation, and the partido of that name is rather cut-throat. Kids are expensive, and light-fingered gentry will seize your gloves.

Close shaving is general, and hair-splitting a favorite pastime of members of the Legislature. In capillary accoutrons, Dr Acosta is a model, as he brushes his hair backwards, to exhibit his brains.

In female dress, we find moire antique very suited for old maids, and light stuff of all kinds for young ladies; frills and furbelows are also to the person (who pays drapers' bills). Crinoline adds much to the capacity of the fair sex; yet wers and satins are good for those who prefer a heavy clothing account. Talmas, and such-like, become a tall figure, for those who live on a month-ly salary. Children's hats are dear little things, the price increasing in inverse ratio with age, and hussar suits make terrible inroads on domestic felicity.

It is very improper to take photographic albums, instead of prayer-books, to church; also to let drop an opera-glass from the boxes to the pit, in order to create a sensation in the theatre. It is not quite polite to ask a policeman his age, or invite the municipal collector to take brandy. It is bant ton to discuss "our absent friend's" letters, subscribe for the Cordova Railway, import your clothes from Europe, study for the degree of "doctor in both faculties," mention "when you were at Paysan," ten times daily, write something against religion, call one of the ministers "nameless," commubicate articles to the Tribuna, propose a trip by the English or French mail, spend Sundays at Belgra o or San Fernando, and keep a miscellaneous collection of loves, hatreds, likes, &c—pledges of some tender liaison.

In statesmen it is very convenient to reject beforehand all honors, who ther offered them or not, as they always get credit for modesty, and often make virtue of a necessity.

PROGRESS OF THE REBELLION.

As we at first insinuated the revolt of Rioja is more serious than was supposed, and the Concho is leading gen-ius of the insurgents. Sandes' defeat of Ontiveros merited him a very fine reward, the gift of the Nat.Government; but there is some disunity, our militia having in great part disperse, while the enemy invaded Mendoza under Olavero, and Peñaloza now is disbanded near the seat of events, boldly throws aside the mask, and in a violent proclamation calls the provincials to rally around the Federal banner.

The province of Mendoza has 800 men under arms. Colonel Arredondo has three companies of infantry, Sandes' force is over 500, and Gov. Sarmiento, neither general nor colonel, will probably count on double this number. It was, however, evidently premature to bring back the troops of Mendoza from Rioja, and di-band the Cordoba militia. Unless the rebel force be greatly exaggerated (2000), it will require time and energy to organize the inhabitants of Peñaloza bailled our arms, before, for nearly 19 months, and now that he risks all on the hazard of a die, he will be game. The best thing for the plan was well and widely laid, and must have had some success, of which we are uninformed, ere the Concho threw up his pancho.

We have, meantime, the best assurance of Dequiza's good intentions in his refusal to take active part in the rebellion. One of our colleagues demands the ostracism of the Entre Rios deputation, when they should rather thank him for if he had been willing to cross the Rubicon, he might have given more trouble than we could wish for.

Chavez seems to have come over from Chile, and is encamped at San Carlos, at the foot of the Andes, south of Buenos. Sandes is at the frontier junction of Cordoba, Mendoza and San Luis. Peñaloza's proclamation is more remarkable for vigor than orthography Sarmiento's harangues are models of eloquence.

ENTRE-RIOS.

The Litoral of Paraná continues a terrible war on the National Government, whose last hour it announces. Juan Sea is said to have joined the rebels, in order to avenge the alleged assassination of his nephew, by Sandes. Governor Cullen is accused of horrible atrocities, his aide-de-camp accompanying him, in triumphal entry to Concordia, bearing the ears of the murdered Indians hung round his horse's neck. It is rumored that the President has ordered both Cullen and Oroño to resign, the former for brutality, the latter for Federal tendencies, but this is very doubtful. General Lopez Jordan left Parana for San José on the 10th inst. and Col. Telmo Lopez for Nogoya, some day. Carriego takes these movements as bad auguries for the Unitarios. A Santa Fe correspondent hopes that Urquiza will cease to protect Gen. Mitre, and states that the recent victory (?) of Ontiveros over Sandes was hailed with jubilation and feerenades in Rosario. Rioja is represented as invulnerable, Peñaloza having over 2,000 troopers under his various lieutenants, and 4,000 Santa Fé reactionaries invite the hero of Macaya to rescue them from the actual tyranny.

Carriego writes with much fire and ability, and it is a subject of regret that he does not seem fond of truth: for the statements are quite as absurd as those of "our absent friend" of whom he aptly remarks "Fué á Paris baul y vá á volver peluca."

We have the Uruguay up to the 18th inst. The Chambers are occupied with the Provincial budget, and sinecure employments have been retrenched. Urquiza denies that the Litoral is a semi-official paper, although it receives a monthly subsidy in virtue of an old contract. A grand festival took place at Villa Colon, ending "viva Urquiza." The official journal is very pacific, shewing that the Government is loyally disposed.

THE ELECTIONS.

Yesterday at two o'clock the Chamber of Deputies met in preparatory session, to consider the elections. The report of the committee was in favor of Colon meeting having been presented. Colon meeting having been presented Mess Abellaneda and Palemon Huergo insisted on being sent back to the committee for consideration and Mess. Beccar and Tejedor opposed.

An ample discussion ensued, which was immediately followed by great agitation, shouting and disturbances in the bar.

The police were ordered to clear the house and unable to do so

The session was closed and proceedings delayed till to-day.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The rumor of Flores' expedition caused a slight ferment in the city, making people s most forget the election—Sandes & the Chambers. Add to this the bad news received from the camp, and we have the cause of the sudden rise in specie to 440.

Contradictory reports prevail respecting Flores: one says that he is still on the coast of Magdalena, where 9 officers join him; another that he has engordered the arrest of the latter, dead or alive. This is probably incorrect, and latest intelligence is that Flores actually passed Montevideo on the last. The Salto passengers, arrived yesterday, knew noth ng of the invasion.

The race between Ituzaingo and Mas 6 menos came off at Belgrano on Sunday, our English friends meeting with their usual ill-fortune. Ituzaingo is figor of Anglo argentine 6 to 4 but Mas 6 menos gained the race. Three of our English merchants lost 57, 00 $ and others in proportion.

One of our readers observed a meteor on Friday evening, which he described as about 3 o'clock in the afternoon like the sun, some 20 degrees south of the sun, and a 5, 15 another no less brilliant.

The Pulaski got aground, up the river, on Saturday; the Salto, in going up, refused to take off the passengers, but came to their relief on her passage down stream. The stranded voyagers got, we are told "hell seas over," and the Salto passengers were unable to come on shore.

A man fell, on Sunday evening, down a precipice in calle Charcas, and fractured his skull. If the (poor) fellow recovers, he shall de, plore many victims this winter.

The latest on dits is that Peñaloza is marching on Cordoba at the head of 1000 men, but it is expected that city will be able to resist.

COMMERCIAL NEWS.

Since the issue of our last the arrivals from the River Plate have been confined to one vessel, the La Flor del Plata, from Buenos Aires, bringing 10,253 salted hides. From Rio Grande there have arrived the "Ann Stubbs, Sheckla, Hortense, and Orizaba, with cargoes of calcined Bone and bone ash, which have either quarried the principal imports of hides have been confined to 13,551 dry salted Brazil, and 32,000 East India Skips.

CAUSES CELEBRES

Baron Fitzgerald and a Special Jury have been occupied in the Court of Exchequer since last Friday morning in trying one of the most remarkable, if not extraordinary, actions, for alleged libel that has come before an Irish court of justice for many years. The plaintiff is Mr. Francis Morgan, one of the solicitors to the Corporation of Dublin, and the defendant is Dr. Gray, Chairman of the Corporation Waterworks Committee. The cause of action resulted in a number of speeches made by Dr. Gray in his corporate capacity, in which he commented strongly on the conduct of the plaintiff in acting as solicitor to the Waterworks Committee as well as for several articles published in the "Freeman's Journal" of which the defendant is proprietor, and which it was alleged, were libellous and defamatory. These articles, on the other side, were held to be fair and just observations on the actions of great public moment in which the community were deeply interested. Damages were laid at £5,000, and the defendant pleaded a variety of matters and justification of the eight alleged libels. Sergeant Armstrong, with the Right Hon. J. Whiteside, Q.C., M. P., and Messrs. Sidney. Q. C., and Dowse, Q. C., instructed by Mr. John Macnamara, Crown solicitor, appeared for the defendant, and Sergeant Sullivan, with Mr. Macdonagh, Q. C., M. P., Sir Colman O'Loghlen and J. B. Dillon, were counsel for the plaintiff. The case was opened by a place among the "causes celebres" in Ireland for more reasons than one, but particularly on account of the space allotted to it in the Court of Exchequer, Sergeant Armstrong, and while his case lasted, Sergeant Sullivan, with Mr. Macdonagh, Q. C., M. P., Sir Colman O'Loghlen and J. B. Dillon, were counsel for the plaintiff. The case was opened by a place among the "causes celebres" in Ireland for more reasons than one, but particularly on account of the space allotted to it in the Court of Exchequer, Sergeant Armstrong, and while his case, by Sergeant Armstrong, and while closed two days in its delivery, and occupied no less than thirty-eight closely printed columns of the "Freeman's Journal." The case is also remarkable as having been brought by Mr. Morgan, the solicitor and secretary of its members for the delivery of speeches in which the conduct of the officer of the corporation, in his official capacity, was criticised and condemned The case is not likely to close for some days yet, and it has excited considerable interest among all classes as it is certified by the crowds who occupy the court daily.

On Friday, Major the Hon. William Charles Yelverton entered into the usual recognisances at the House of Lords, in order to judge of appeals given by the Court of Session, in Scotland, in favor of Maria Teresa Yelverton, now wife of Major Yelverton. Session, declared to be the lawful wife in a judgment delivered in the Parliament House, Edinburgh, on the 19th of December, 1862. In all probability the appeal will be heard early during the forthcoming session. The case be heard early during the forthcoming session. The case before the House will take place before of others. Sir Roundell Palmer, (late Solicitor General), Mr. Monecrift (the Lord Advocate of Scotland), Mr. Whitesides, Q. C., and Mr. Dodson, Q. C., Mr. Rolt Q. C., and Mr. Young, (of the Scotch bar,) have been retained for Major Yelverton, by his agents, Messrs. Lawrence and Sons. It is not generally known that the damages and costs obtained in Ireland by Mr. Thirlwall have not been paid. It will be remembered that on the occasion of Mr. Thirlwall sued Major Yelverton, in Dublin, for the maintenance of Mrs. Yelverton during the period she had resided with Mr. and Mrs. Thirlwall, the jury returned a verdict in Mr. Thirlwall's favour, and declaring that Mrs. Yelverton was the lawful wife of Major Yelverton. Mr. Thirlwall has not, however, been able to obtain these costs and damages recovered, it is said to upwards of 1,000£, owing to the fact that Major Yelverton is "man ent ventus". We understand, however, that Mr. Thirlwall is now in London, and that proceedings are about being taken to bring Major Yelverton before the Court of Bankruptcy, when we shall no doubt have some further details respecting this extraordinary case.

THE GALWAY SUBSIDY.

The Galway subsidy has one or two shoals and quicksands still to encounter before it reaches smooth water and a safe port. The first of these is the forthcoming report of the Admiralty, and the second, if determined obstructor, Mr. Baxter. Pat I am told the Earl of Carlisle has settled the business with the Government, and by his representations induced them to renew the contract pure and simple. An Irish man, Sergeant Shee, is likely to be elevated to the English Bench as soon as a vacancy occurs. He has been appointed to supply the place of Mr. Baron Wilde on the Commission as the Judge for the Western Circuit. The learned gentleman is the first Catholic that has sat on the English Bench since the reign of James I.—Sir Robert Peel is improving a little, owing, it is rumour'd, to his having extricated himself from some at least of the lending-strings by which he was guided for some time after his appointment as Irish Secretary.

THE CAREER OF MADAME DE SOLMS,

The following letter has been addressed to the Editor of the Manchester Guardian: "Sir,—My attention has been called to a letter which has recently appeared in your journal, from your London correspondent, in which he professes to give an account of the career of Madame Ratazzi — cidevant De Solms — representing her to have been the daughter of my late lamented brother, Sir Thomas Wyse. As the representative of the Wyse family, I beg to give the most unqualified contradiction to that statement: Madame Wyse and my brother were married in 1-31. They lived together until 1836, when she separated herself from him. During that time, there were born only two children as issue of the marriage, both (sons) namely Alfred N. Wyse, and William C. Wyse, now living.

My brother never saw his wife after their separation. The person to whom your correspondent refers, namely Madame de Solms, was born at Waterdon, in April, 1-31. She is the daughter of an English officer then stationed there. My brother invariably repudiated the audaciously assumed relation of any of that individual, and has left, in proof of it, the most satisfactory documents now in my possession to be used on occasion may require, in refutation of the unfounded and scandalous fabrications, I may observe that the other statements of your correspondent, referring to my late brother, are a complete fiction on the part of his informant. I trust to your sense of justice to insert this contradiction to your correspondent's letter, and I hope that such of your contemporaries who published it will give equal publicity to my denial.—I remain, sir, your obedient servant, Gerard Wyse. 33, Upper Leeson street, Dublin, Feb 20. 1863."

LOCAL EVENTS.

INVASION OF R. ORIENTAL

Since Saturday morning there are reports that General Flores, who has left some time ago the Argentine service, has embarked armed in a steamer with several officers to invade the neighbouring Republic, yet his movements are not known by the public and it is said to have been despatched to the Argentine Government by the Oriental Consul.

On Sunday afternoon the guard at the mole did not permit the public to go there as usual, probably for this reason.

Yesterday there were all sorts of conflicting reports abroad, but they are without foundation. However it is known that up to Sunday night there had been no movement in the Uruguay coast and we trust matters are not so gloomy as some people think.

CAMELS. A late letter from an English gentleman in Bolivia states that the camels introduced into that country in 1845 in the experiment have fromly increased to 100, but the utility has not yet fully answered the original expectation of the importers.

SOC. ALBERDI.—One of our most talented writers, late Editor of the "Orden" and notorious for his unbending principles in religious matters, has been enabled by the munificence of several friends to send his works to press.

VICTORIA THEATRE.—On Saturday the interesting ceremony of the distribution of prizes to the children of public schools took place, under the superintendence of Dr. Gabriel Puentes in name of San Miguel church.

—On Sunday night the Spanish Dramatic Company made such we were not present and consequently can not give a report: we regret however to learn that there has been a division [as usual] between the actors and several of the best have left the company.

NORTHERN RAILWAY.—The contractors are expecting two locomotives two coaches and a large quantity of rails, coke and material for the continuation of the works with activity by the following vessels which have already left from England.

From London—The Alma and Columbus.

From Liverpool — Margaret and Mystery.

From Cardiff—Penelope and Sappho.

These vessels bring altogether over 7,000 pieces iron for the works.

CAPE OF GOOD HOPE—Our last letters from this colony state that the sheep farmers were in very great distress, on account of the long continued drought, which had ruined many of them.

BONDS, SHARES, &c — The "Times', Wednesday, 4th March, quotes the following figures.

Buenos A. 6 per cents, 95
Southern Railways, 1/2 per cent discount to par.
Northern Railway, 3/4 to 1 per cent premium
London and River Plate Bank, 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 do

ASSASSINATIONS. A musician of a regiment of the line was killed on Sunday night at Barracas, making 4 murders in that locality within 20days.

IMMIGRATION — Notwithstanding the war, the number of immigrants departing from Liverpool to the United States is increasing. The month of February shows an increase over the previous one of 1397 emigrants, and on the corresponding month last year of 2820.

We notice only four ships, with 1 passengers for South America.

MISCELLANEA.

—It is said the London city authorities will spend £30,000 to give eclat to the public entrance of the Princess of Alexandra into London on the day of the wedding. They will also give a grand banquet in Guildhall, to which 4000 persons will be invited.

—The Florida, Confederate steamer, was recently chased off the Jamaica by the Federal steamer Sonoma. With steam alone, the Sonoma gained on her; with her sails set, the Florida led ahead. Though it was blowing hard, the Florida carried everything even studding sails. The nearest time the Sonoma got was five miles.

—The authoress of "Lady Audley's Secret," and previous to its appearance of her first attempt at fiction in the columns of Leonidle's Miscellany, Miss Braddon had strong literary aspirations. I have heard from those who knew, and, indeed, played in the same country theatre with her in her salad days, that her great wish then was to get some of her stories published. This implies that she, like many other people, wrote pretty much as long before there was a demand, or even a channel, for her labours.
